ABSTRACT

This demonstration booklet illustrates the kinds of exercises or test questions and tasks used in the assessment of student achievement in reading and writing by the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP). Each student will be asked to complete the background section and the cognitive sections for one subject, and the assessment will require about 90 minutes of a student's time. The booklet for grade 12 is divided into four sections: Part One contains the general background questionnaire that students will be asked to answer; Parts Two and Three contain descriptions of each field test, followed by the booklet directions and the background questionnaire that accompanies each subject; and Part Four (located on the back cover) presents information about the program's purpose and what procedures to follow to obtain access to NAEP questions for further review. Parts Two and Three of the booklet also contain questions about how specific subject matter is taught and the materials and resources the students use; students will also be asked such questions as their racial and ethnic background, parental education, and the number of educational materials in the home. # A MESSAGE FOR SCHOOL STAFF MEMBERS

On behalf of the NAEP project team, I want to thank you and other members of your school system for agreeing to participate in the NAEP assessment. Your participation is essential and valued. NAEP's benchmark data about student achievement and instructional emphases are widely used for staff development, curriculum planning, and research on student performance. Your voluntary assistance enhances a cooperative partnership with school leaders across the country who believe that information about this nation's educational progress is a critical ingredient for public and professional discussion about policy and direction. Your assistance also contributes to our success in measuring what students know and can do.

This demonstration booklet illustrates the kinds of exercises or test questions and tasks used in the assessment of student achievement in reading and writing. Each student will be asked to complete the background section and the cognitive sections for one subject. The length of the assessment will require about 90 minutes of a student's time.

This booklet is divided into four parts. Part one contains the general background questionnaire that twelfth graders will be asked to answer. The second and third parts contain descriptions of each field test, followed by the booklet directions and the background questionnaire that accompanies each subject. Students will be asked such questions as their racial and ethnic background, parental education, and the number of educational materials in the home. This information is confidential. Students' names are removed from all completed assessment materials before they are shipped from the school to NAEP for processing.

Parts two and three also contain questions about specific subject matter that seek information, from the student's point of view, about how the subject matter is taught and the materials and resources the students use. There are also subject-specific samples of reading and writing questions that are representative of those in the assessment. Although the actual questions in the assessment must be safeguarded to maintain the integrity of the assessment and resulting data, the sample questions, nevertheless, are intended to convey the kinds of questions and question formats that are part of the assessment in 2001.

The fourth part of the booklet is located on the back cover and presents information about the program's purpose and what procedures to follow to obtain access to NAEP questions for further review.

Again, the project team appreciates your willingness to allow NAEP to conduct the assessment at your institution.

THE READING ASSESSMENT

The NAEP reading assessment measures students' ability to understand, to interpret, and to think critically about different types of texts. In responding to stories, articles, and documents, students are asked to read for literary experience, to gain information, and to perform a task. The assessment is comprised of reading materials selected from publications and other resources typically available to students in and out of school.

Across the three purposes for reading, students are asked to demonstrate their understanding by responding to comprehension questions that reflect four different types of reading processes. These processes represent the changing stances that a reader takes toward a text. Initial understanding questions ask students to consider the text as a whole. Developing an interpretation questions ask students to discern connections and relationships within the text. Personal reflection and response questions ask students to interpret the text in relation to their prior knowledge or experiences. Critical stance questions ask students to consider how the text is written.

The NAEP reading assessment contains multiple-choice questions as well as short and extended constructed-response questions. Students spend approximately 60 to 70 percent of their assessment time providing written answers to the constructed-response questions.

Each student who participates in the assessment will receive one test booklet. At grade 12, the booklets will contain either two 25-minute reading sections or one 50-minute section made up of reading materials and questions.

READING BOOKLET DIRECTIONS

In each of the next two sections, you will have 25 minutes to read a story or article and answer questions about it. You should think carefully about your answers, and you should use the entire 25 minutes to complete each section.

You will be asked to respond to three different types of questions. Some of the questions will require you to choose the best answer and fill in the oval for that answer in your booklet.

For other questions, you will be asked to write short answers on the blank lines provided in your booklet. Here is an example of a question that requires you to provide a short answer.

Example 1

What would happen to you if you tried to go inside a black hole?

I think that if you tried to go inside a black hole you would get crushed by the force of gravity and die.

Also, you will be asked to answer other questions by writing longer, more detailed responses on a full page of blank lines. For example, here is a question that requires you to provide a longer answer.

Example 2

Someone you know has decided to go on a journey into a black hole. What would you tell him or her to expect?

Twould tell them not to go into the black hole or they would probably never get out alive. Going into a black hole would mean that you would never see anyone on Earth again.

The journey would be very dangerous. You might get pulled apart by the pressure.

When you are asked to write your response be sure that your handwriting is clear. Think carefully about each question and make your answers as complete as possible, using as many lines as you need.

You may go back to the story or article when answering any of the questions. If you finish before time is called, be sure to read your work again and change anything that you think will make your answers better.

READING BOOKLET DIRECTIONS

In the next section, you will have 50 minutes to read a story or article and answer questions about it. You should think carefully about your answers, and you should use the entire 50 minutes to complete each section.

You will be asked to respond to three different types of questions. Some of the questions will require you to choose the best answer and fill in the oval for that answer in your booklet.

For other questions, you will be asked to write short answers on the blank lines provided in your booklet. Here is an example of a question that requires you to provide a short answer.

THE WRITING ASSESSMENT

The NAEP writing assessment measures three purposes of writing: narrative, informative, and persuasive. The narrative tasks comprise first-person and third-person fictional stories. The informative tasks comprise description, explanation, and analysis. The persuasive tasks comprise writing to convince, writing to construct an argument, and writing to refute a position.

Across the three purposes for writing, students are asked to respond in a variety of forms. These forms include essays, letters, reports, stories, and articles. Some tasks require students to write for a specified audience; for example, to a teacher, to a committee, or to a friend. Writing tasks in the 1998 assessment incorporate an array of stimulus materials, such as color photographs, comic strips, newspaper articles, and poems.

Each student participating in the assessment will receive one test booklet. At grade 12, students will receive either two 25-minute writing tasks or one 50-minute writing task. All booklets contain a Planning Page, thus providing students with the opportunity to make notes and organize their ideas. In addition, all participating students are provided with a writing strategies brochure to remind them of various ways to plan and review their writing.

WRITING BOOKLET DIRECTIONS

Your book has 5 sections. Sections 1 and 2 each contain one writing assignment. You will have 25 minutes to complete each assignment. Sections 3, 4, and 5 contain questions about you and your classes. The administrator will tell you when to begin and end each section.

In section 1 and in section 2, read the page that gives the assignment for the paper you will write. After reading the assignment, go on to the planning page where you can make notes and plan what to write. Do not write your paper on the planning page. After the planning page, there are lined pages where you should write your paper.

The following example shows what these pages look like.

Remember to start writing your papers on the lined pages that begin on page 4 of each section that has a writing assignment.

Read each assignment carefully so that you understand what you are to write about. For each writing assignment, you will probably need the entire 25 minutes to plan and write. Use as many lined pages as you need to write your paper. You may want to use ideas from the brochure you have been given to help you plan and review your paper.

If you finish before time is called, read your paper again and make any changes that you think will make it better.

Do not go past the

In the first part of your book, read the page that gives the assignment for the paper you will write. After reading the assignment, go on to the planning page where you can make notes and plan what to write. Do not write your paper on the planning page. After the planning page, there are lined pages where you should write your paper.

The following example shows what these pages look like.

Remember to start writing your papers on the lined pages that begin on page 4 of the first part of your book (sections 1 and 2).

WRITING QUESTIONS

You have a chance to select one item that will be placed in a time capsule filled with objects that tell something about people living today. The capsule will not be opened until the year 2222. When it is finally unlocked, its contents will reveal what was interesting or important to people in your age group or to society in general.

Think of objects that tell something interesting or important about people living today—for example, a particular book, an item of clothing, a work of art, a game, or a gadget. Choose one object you would like to have placed in the time capsule. The specific size of the time capsule has not yet been determined, so the object you choose can be of any size. Write an essay in which you identify the object you chose and explain what you think it tells about people living today.

Recently, the music industry started to put rating labels on record albums, compact discs, and tapes. These labels describe the content and language of the music. A local committee is considering a rating-label law that would make it illegal for anyone under the age of 18 to buy recordings with negative ratings.

Write a letter to the committee telling whether or not you think that negative rating labels should be used to restrict teenagers from buying certain music. Give specific reasons to support your opinion.

National Assessment of Educational Progress 2001 Assessment Reading and Writing

Information about National Assessment of Educational Progress

PROJECT MISSION. NAEP is authorized by Congress and directed and funded by the U.S. Department of Education (National Center for Education Statistics) to report on what American students know and can do in key academic subjects. It has produced more than 200 reports in its 31-year history, chronicling trends over time in the performance of 9-, 13-, and 17-year-old and fourth-, eighth-, and twelfth-grade students. The results are reported in the aggregate for large groups; no student or school data are reported. Information is reported by average proficiency; racial/ethnic and gender status; region; type of school; parents' education level; teachers' emphases; and a variety of home and school supports for learning. It is important to note that student participation is voluntary and confidential.

THE CONTENT OF NAEP. By law, for each subject assessed, the National Assessment Governing Board (NAGB) manages the development of frameworks detailing what students reasonably might be expected to know and do. These frameworks are the "blueprints" for developing tasks that measure the content specified. Schools selected for the 2001 field test will receive NAEP's frameworks for reading and writing. For information on additional framework development, please contact Mary Crovo of the National Assessment Governing Board at 202–357–6941.

EXAMINATION OF SECURE NAEP ITEMS. Within the limits of staff and resources, procedures have been developed that will enable small groups of members of the public to review the NAEP questions that will be administered in 2001. These arrangements must be made in advance of the local administration date(s) so that sufficient materials can be available and interested persons can be notified about the location and time of the examination. Those persons reviewing the assessment may not, however, remove the booklets from the room, copy them, or take notes. These requests may be made to the NAEP data collection staff, or by contacting the National Center for Education Statistics at 202–502–7300.

OBTAINING NAEP QUESTIONS. Most NAEP questions and tasks are not generally released to the public, because these materials are reused in future assessments, and thus must be kept secure if the project is to accurately report trends in academic performance. However, a portion of each assessment is designated for public release and each NAEP report contains a sample of actual test questions. The questions released for public and research use can be obtained from the National Center for Education Statistics, NAEP Released Exercises, 1990 K Street, NW, Washington, DC 20006. Also, previously released questions may be viewed on and downloaded from the NCES Web site at http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION. For prompt field staff support on the above-mentioned matters, or any other concerns, please call 800–283–6237.
